

Instructor: Date:

Learner: Regional Branch:

Program: Center:

CONTENT

- Let's Start! • Let's Explore! • Let's Practice! • Extension Activity • Target Words • Learning Points

Let's Start!

Let's meet someone new!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use important information about people's jobs and places of work in communicative situations.

Ask your partner:

- Have you ever been late to a meeting?
Why were you late?
- How did you explain it to the person you were meeting?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about jobs and work.
- I can show interest and enthusiasm in conversations.
- I can praise a subordinate for good performance.

Let's Explore!

Janet and Miranda meet with Ferdinand to talk about PR but he's late ... he's discussing some new plans on the mezzanine*!

* "PR" refers to Public Relations which involve events that promote a company's image.

 A "mezzanine" is a floor between two others in a building, typically between the ground and first floors.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

- Janet: Good to see you, Miranda. So, it's 1:15. Where is Ferdinand?
- Miranda: He'll be coming. I think ...
- Ferdinand: Ladies! My apologies. I'm a bit late. I just met the concierge in the elevator. A friendly chap. He wanted to show me the greenery plans on the mezzanine.
- Miranda: Always personable, Ferdinand. That is why I recommended you to Janet. You have excellent client rapport and have been very helpful.
- Ferdinand: Thank you. Hopefully with my employers as well. I am looking forward to being of service in a new role!
- Janet: Excellent. Ferdinand, we are working on a proposal to expand into online retail, specifically in the South American market. You are here not only because of your cultural expertise but your skillful rapport with clients as well. How would you feel with a main PR role? We were thinking of something less traditional than we've been doing.
- Ferdinand: Are you? Terrific! I have experience in arranging press conferences, staging and sponsoring events ... this is definitely something to pour some good money into. Believe me, you won't be sorry. To help give your business the coverage it deserves, especially in South America, is a dream of mine.
- Janet: Your enthusiasm is first class. I think we will partner you with Rocco. He is excellent with finances.
- Miranda: You can give yourself a pat on the back, Ferdinand. Keep up the good work! We really appreciate your dedication.

Let's Practice!

How's the conversation going?

Instructions: Read the sentences. Select all the sentences that you would not use to show interest and enthusiasm.

- 1) I'm meeting with them tomorrow.
- 2) I am looking forward to being of service in a new role!
- 3) Excellent, Ferdinand. We're glad you're excited to be involved.
- 4) He wanted to show me the new greenery plans.
- 5) Are you? Terrific! I have experience in arranging something less traditional.
- 6) Believe me, you won't be sorry with the events I will stage for you.

Let's Practice!

What do they have to say about Ferdinand?

Instructions: Read the sentences. Write the missing words. Choose from: Keep up, helpful, appreciate, recommended, excellent, first class, pat on the back.

- 1) Always personable, Ferdinand. That is why I _____ you to Janet.
- 2) You have _____ client rapport and have been very _____.
- 3) Your enthusiasm is _____.
- 4) You can give yourself a _____.
- 5) _____ the good work!
- 6) We really _____ your dedication.

Extension Activity

Let's show some interest! Role play a situation with your partner.

Instructions: Complete the following steps. Fill in the Self-Assessment.

- Read the situation below.
- Choose the role you want.
- Practice talking about the situation in the role play. Continue speaking for as long as you can.
- Then, switch roles with your partner.

Self-Assessment

Yes

No

I praise an employee for their work.

☐ ☐

I show interest and enthusiasm to keep a conversation going.

☐ ☐

I respond to praise that I receive.

☐ ☐

Situation:

Role 1: You are a manager. You have a meeting with one of your employees. Praise them for the good work they are doing. Show enthusiasm while talking to them.

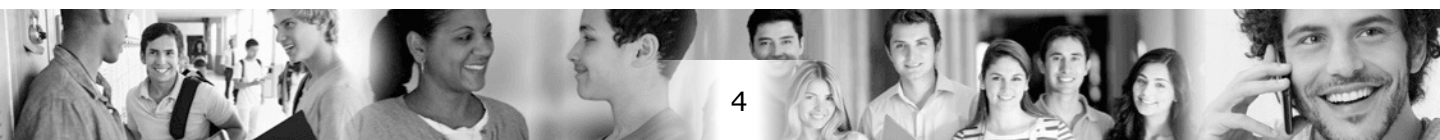

Role 2: You are an employee. You have a meeting with your manager. Respond to the praise they are giving you. Show interest and enthusiasm while talking to them.

Change roles.

Target Words

- press conference (noun): an event for the media to gather to hear an announcement and ask questions
e.g. I have experience in arranging press conferences.
- staging (verb): to prepare, arrange and present a public event
e.g. I have experience in staging and sponsoring special events.
- pour good money into (expression): to spend a large amount of money e.g. Non-traditional PR events are definitely something to pour some good money into.
- coverage (noun): the extent of the area the business reaches e.g. My dream is to help give our business the coverage it deserves in South America.
- first class (adjective): of the highest quality
e.g. Your enthusiasm is first class.
- pat on the back (expression): to give praise and appreciation
e.g. You can give yourself a pat on the back for your dedication.

Learning Points

Showing Interest and Enthusiasm

One way to keep a conversation going is to show the speaker that you are listening to what is being said.

Below you will find useful ways to be an active listener and keep the conversation going. The "good news" is that you actually don't need many words in order to do this.

Showing Interest

- Excellent!
- Really? (with a rising intonation)
- Is that so?
- Terrific!
- I'm looking forward to ... (use '-ing')
- I think you did a nice/great job on ... /with ...

Using a short phrase to show your feelings

- Believe me ...
- How awful!
- Oh no!
- You're kidding.

Ask a short question

Use an auxiliary verb to ask a short question which will prompt the speaker to continue talking.

- I'm going away next week. → Oh, are you?
- I finished the report. → Did you?

Examples:

- Jane: I'm presenting the report tomorrow.
- Shawn: Oh, really?
- Jane: Yes. I got the confirmation today.
- Shawn: I'm looking forward to being there.

Learning Points

Working in a Team

Praising co-workers and employees when they are doing good work can make a positive impact on the workplace.

Here are a few phrases you can use to praise a subordinate on their performance and a bring smile, good cheer and better commitment to their job.

- That is why I recommended/suggested you.
- You have excellent client rapport/computer skills.
- Your enthusiasm/work is first class.

We normally use the Present Simple, Past Simple or Present Perfect when praising. Here are some more phrases.

Praising

- Thanks for all your help.
- Thanks for everything you've done.
- Thanks a million.
- I owe you big time.
- I really appreciate your help (with that).
- You've been very helpful.
- Keep up the good work.

